

German Couple Settle Here To Become Citizens

When Gene Morrison was with the armed forces in Nurnberg, Germany immediately after World War II a German boy by the name of Julius Worzer worked under his supervision. Gene found the first name difficult to remember so he changed it to Jasper.

Now Jasper is on his way to citizenship in the United States while earning a living for himself and his wife as a service station attendant. Worzer said the name Jasper had caught the public fancy to such a degree that he would probably discard the name Julius for all practical purposes.

Getting out of Germany and beginning life in the United States has taken Jasper and his wife two years. Both he and his wife are fulfilling requirements to become naturalized citizens. One of these requirements is a course in English. They are taking English courses at Amarillo College.

The young couple are taking the ordinary channels for becoming naturalized citizens. One of the requirements of getting out of Germany was that of knowing someone in the U. S. who could guarantee him a job for at least one year. This slot was filled by Morrison.

After Jasper and his wife finally got started, the trip from Germany to Canyon was made in 15 days. The couple arrived in Canyon Friday, March 7, rested over the week end and he went to work at Morrison's Service Station Monday morning.

The huge number of gardens and lawns amazed the German couple. Germany does not have enough space for huge lawns and gardens, Jasper pointed out. At present the couple live in an apartment at 906 14th, in Canyon.

Sheriff Arrests Four Boys on Theft Count Wednesday

Wednesday Sheriff Cantrell arrested four boys and held them for Parmer County officials. At the time of arrest the boys had in their possession eight batteries which were alleged to have been taken from irrigation wells in the vicinity of Friona. Five of these batteries still had the owner's name chalked on them when the boys were apprehended.

All four of the boys have records even though the two oldest were 21 and 22 years old. The other two were each 16 years of age. One 16-year-old was a former inmate in the Texas reformatory school and the other had served time in Oklahoma. The boys were 21 and 22 years of age were brothers. The 21-year-old youth was only recently released from the Texas penitentiary and the 22-year-old boy was under a suspended sentence.

Sheriff Cantrell released all four of the boys into the custody of Parmer County Sheriff Charlie Lovelace.

Canyon Is Well Painted Town

A representative of the DuPont Company was here the other day checking up on the experiment which had been under way north of Canyon since 1930. This experiment is with paints of the company and is under the direction of Dr. C. A. Pierle, head of the Chemistry department of West Texas State.

The DuPont man is of the opinion that this is a hard country on paint, due to the prevailing type of wood used in construction, and the kind of weather which we have.

However, both this man and Dr. Pierle are of the opinion that Canyon has pretty good paint jobs, and the town looks pretty well. At least there has been a decided improvement during the past few years.

Crowds Buy 1952 License Plates for Cars in Last Rush

The number of license plates which were bought by Randall county citizens had not been determined this morning.

There was a steady line of customers during Monday, but the number to buy plates Tuesday was greatly reduced.

In walking around the square Monday morning it looked as if half of the cars were not equipped with the new '52 license plates. There was a steady stream of persons coming from the court house during the day.

Several residents of South Amarillo drove on to Canyon Monday to secure their plates. "There was a line a mile long—more or less," stated one citizen who had visited the office in South Amarillo but was in a hurry and did not wish to wait for his plates in Amarillo.

Milton E. Crow Is Candidate for the Office of Sheriff

MILTON E. CROW

The News is authorized to make the announcement of the candidacy of Milton E. Crow for the office of Sheriff of Randall County. The statement reads as follows:

"I am 35 years of age. I first came to Canyon in 1935 and entered West Texas State, working my way through by milking cows on the College Farm. I received my degree in Agriculture in 1939, and taught during 1939 and 1940 in the Canyon High School.

"In 1940 I was mobilized into federal service as a member of Canyon's famous Company F, which made such a fine record during the war. I fought by the side of these men through the Italian campaign.

"When I returned home I came to Canyon and was married to Miss Beatrice McCustin. We have since lived in South Amarillo, which is in Randall county at 2718A Duncan Drive. We have two children, a son and a daughter. I am engaged in business at the present time.

"My long experience in business has given me a good opportunity to study the problems of the farmer, business man and the ex-soldier.

"In making announcement for this important office, I base my candidacy upon three propositions: 1. Preserve the peace and dignity of the county by carefully enforcing the laws of the State. 2. Cooperation with all county and city officials for a more efficient operation of public affairs wherever possible. 3. Organize a vigorous Junior Deputy patrol in order that I may aid in the education of the youth of the county.

"If elected to this prominent office by the voters of Randall county I shall have just one promise to make: To always remember that "Right is Right; and wrong is wrong," concluded Mr. Crow.

The steel cutback for commercial purposes has been instrumental in lowering the permits issued for new business buildings. This is also named as one of the indirect causes for fewer residences being built.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

Living An Easy Life
In a Small Town!

Ernest Joiner of the Ralls Banner came out with a statement last week which was quite amazing. He said that those who seek an easy place in which to live should move to Ralls, where there were no broadcasting stations; no Chamber of Commerce; no municipal stadium; no tea room; no antique shop; no policemen; no court of law; no leading citizen; no traffic problems; no sexy movies; no conventions; no government office; no television; no defense plants.

Which reminds us of the advice of a famous college president who addressed his final message to the graduating class: "If you seek the easy way, move to a town which is well paved; where there is an adequate water, light, and sewer system; where the churches are paid for; where the court house needs no repairs; where there are adequate business houses to cover the immediate future needs of the community."

In other words, if you want action; effective energy and plenty of civic work, don't select an old town which does not care to grow larger; but move to an aggressive community where there is need for public improvements.

There are a few items in the Joiner article which applies to Canyon. We can be thankful that we do not have all of the so-called modern "conveniences" which are listed in his editorial. Yet on the other hand these conveniences will come to such communities which put forth the proper effort to bring them into their midst.

There is always a lot of work ahead for progressive citizens in each community.

Look around you: Canyon may never be the biggest town in West Texas, but with the proper co-operation of all in us, Canyon may be the best town in this vast area.

Wheat Outlook Is Good States Farmer

A local citizen told of the visit with an experienced wheat grower. The Canyon business man complained about the cold, wind and dust of March. He did not like the outlook for wheat.

The wheat farmer cocked one eye and remarked that the wheat crop was in good shape; that it had never rained in March; that the wind always blew in March; and that dust had always prevailed during the month.

Citizens of Canyon recall the conversation of a pioneer who remarked that he would drink all of the water which fell during March. It so happened that this particular March when the pioneer was boasting was a wet one, and heavy rains fell. The old pioneer did not live up to his promise to drink all of the water which fell.

Well here it is April. It is a new month, with 30 days, or prospects for good rains. (We only trust that the weatherman does not fail to bring needed moisture).

The wheat crop generally looks pretty good, but time is running out, and as we have heard many, many times during the past years, West Texas always has to lose the wheat crop at least three times before it is finally harvested.

Political Situation
Has Not Improved

It is amazing—that is, this political situation.

So far we have found only a few, very few indeed, persons who are willing to openly advocate the reelection of President Truman. Yet, deep down in the hearts of life long Democrats all of us know how hard it will be for this group to leave the Democratic party and vote for other than Truman.

In the same breath that they condemn the President, too many citizens are thinking in terms of the crime they will commit against the Democratic party should they cast their vote for some other candidate. It would seem that we have a considerable way to go before we are set free from old prejudices and fancies regarding our politics; before we put America above the Democratic party.

Steel Prices Go Up
With Wage Bracket

Here we go on another whirl of the merry-go-round. Prices will go up again as the result of the spiral prices of steel wages and steel prices.

It was long ago established that the price of steel controlled so many commodity prices that one could not be increased without all prices going up a notch or so.

Back in FDR days when the war started and prices started to rise, he was told that it was silly for the government to attempt putting a ceiling on prices unless the ceiling was applied to labor and all raw products. FDR refused to molest his friends in the labor camp. He thought that he could control prices by gently slapping the wrist of business men who refused to put a ceiling on their products, regardless of the prices they had to pay for labor.

Truman has followed the same example of FDR. The government has jumped every time that the labor leaders have cracked the whip and demanded more money for the unions.

It matters not what you make—how much or how little—the value of your money is regulated by the commodities which your money will buy.

Just how much will the steel workers profit when they get their raise in pay and they find that commodities on the market have increased to such an amount that they pay out this advanced wage in advanced prices for their living?

They will be in line to ask for another increase, which the government will grant. Mind you, it is the government, and not the people who grant this increase.

It is the government, and not the people who are supposed to own the government, which quakes every time the labor bosses crack their whip and demand more and more money.

And it is the people, the supposed bosses of the government, who pay the bill for this merry-go-round of spiraling prices.

OPS Cannot Justify
Cost of Existence

Just how much good has OPS done for the nation?

OPS, with its army of hirelings, has spent millions of dollars.

OPS has kept a steady string of so-called experts on the road, but so far as local business men are concerned, none of these experts have been able to give one item of expert advice. These fellows have traveled, eaten and slept at the expense of the taxpayers, drawing down good salaries in the guise of economy.

Hard headed Congressmen are looking over the results and are wondering if they have been duped into spending a lot of money foolishly on another idea of the White House which fails to work.

Whether Congress will refuse to continue OPS, or will modify its authority is a tough question.

We shall see what we shall see.

New Form in the Editorial Page

The editorial page was presented in a new form last week, and this form is repeated again this week.

Maybe you do not like the shorter lines, but a number of readers say that the change is an improvement.

We may be back to the previous form in a week or so, but who knows? This is the age of change, and by the time we get tired of the present style something may show up to improve the style.

We shall see what we shall see.

Eisenhower Is Man
Of the Year in USA

According to popular opinion, General Eisenhower will be the next president of the United States.

While the old line GOP leaders do not like Eisenhower, and are fearful that he will clip their wings, the General is meeting popular demands and popular fancies.

The fact that the General is the only Republican who is appealing to popular opinion is worrying the old guard. They have a funny plan on foot. While there has been a popular demand for an early return of the General, the old guard, under the direction of Senator Taft, has joined in the clamor for the sole purpose of getting Eisenhower back to embarrass him. They figure that the quicker he returns; the more they can throw at his head, and the weaker he will be in the GOP National Convention.

General MacArthur has joined the Taft forces, and naturally will not help Eisenhower in the race.

In the meanwhile, Truman keeps mum, with nary a word favorable or unfavorable about running for re-nomination.

Now that spring has arrived you can expect to feel lazier than you did last month.

You can partially judge one's intellect by seeing what he reads first in the newspaper.

Geologist Supervises Unearthing Of Mammoth's Bones Near Dozier

Bones of an elephant which roamed the Texas Panhandle before becoming extinct thousands of years ago have been retrieved for the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum at Canyon as the result of a dig near Dozier.

Last week end more than two hundred persons from Panhandle communities flocked to the Laycock Ranch between Shamrock and Wellington during the four days of digging to unearth the mammoth.

Jack T. Hughes, curator of paleontology for the museum and geology instructor at West Texas State College, directed excavation work. He was assisted by Claude Money, Jim Russell and Stanley Schaeffer, Canyon students. One-day diggers included students Curtis Tunnell and Earl Mullin, both of Turkey.

The mammoth was discovered intact except for tusks and parts of the skull, near the head of a deep draw emptying into Dry

Sandy Creek. The remains were about 20 feet below the main surface, but overburden had been washed off so that only three of four feet of dirt had to be removed from atop the bones.

Al Gunter of Wheeler, J. W. Sechrist and his sons, Lenox and Leonard Sechrist, all of Dozier, noticed bones sticking out of the bank of the draw and dug out a few fragments of the monster's teeth.

Orville Cunningham, superintendent of the Samnorwood School near Dozier, notified the museum at Canyon after a prairie road was worn to the spot by interested Panhandlers.

Despite frequent visitors, the mammoth was practically undamaged by the time the museum group arrived to dig. Hughes said it would be possible, if all the bones were retrieved, to reconstruct the mammoth for display in the museum.

When reconstructed, the skeleton of Texas' past occupant would be about the size of a modern elephant. One leg bone, for instance, is 51 inches long, another 45 inches, and each is more than a foot in diameter.

Newly Installed Metal Lathe Aid To Local Service

"If you want to keep home money at home you have to get the tools and service required by the people at home," said Art Roberts last week.

At the time he made the statement Roberts had just finished a metal job on a new lathe. He explained that if he had not had the lathe the job would have been done outside Canyon.

The new lathe has a five foot bed and can work metal that is 13 inches in diameter. A machinist can use the lathe to turn out many of the machined parts needed by farmers and garagemen in this vicinity.

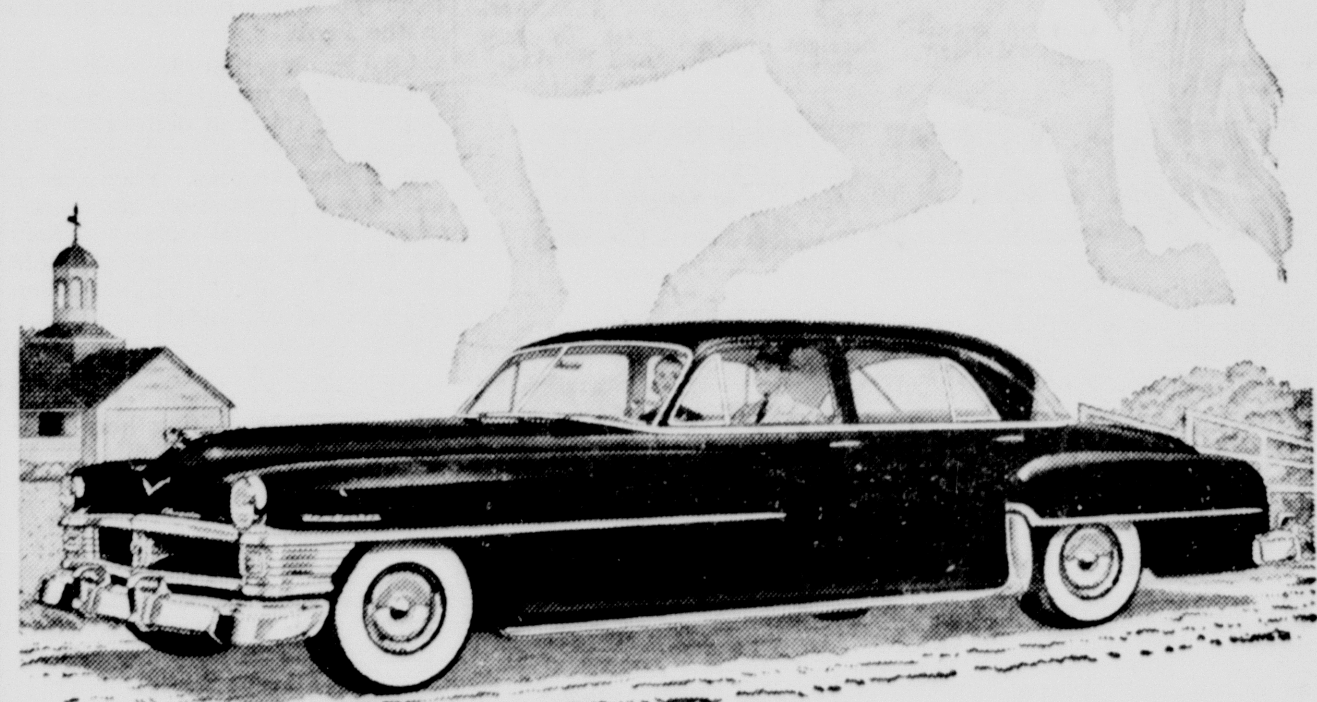

A job finished Thursday by Roberts is typical of the possibilities of the lathe. Roberts took a square piece of metal, machined it to the required thickness, cut the corners down to make it round and drilled four holes in it. The exact center of the piece of metal was located and machined to fit the piece connecting it and its fitting to the engine.

This hook-up was for the purpose of powering an irrigation well with an ordinary car engine. The fitting machined by Roberts made it possible to eliminate the transmission which was no longer needed.

Roberts explained the lathe's five foot bed as being a medium size. He said the medium size was the most popular in a majority of shops. He explained that it was efficient at almost every type of metal work except in the machining of extremely heavy parts.

And when she had passed, it seemed like the ceasing of exquisite music. —Longfellow.

CHRYSLER FirePower is so much more than HORSEPOWER

+ It's worth remembering that today's Chrysler V-8 is not a "warmed-over" engine, but basically brand new... the first truly new type engine of modern times. It does, indeed, open new horsepower potentials, but what it can mean to you goes way beyond just that...

+ FirePower gives your gasoline a better place to work... the first hemispherical combustion chamber in a stock-car engine. It makes possible more power from every drop of gas. You feel it the minute you open up a Chrysler, in greater accelerating power than you've ever had at your command...

+ FirePower is also a better-built engine throughout. It doesn't require premium fuel. It runs with less waste, less heat, less wear, less carbon deposit than other type engines can do. More of your gasoline's energy is turned into actual road power, greater reserve for passing and top speeds when needed...

+ Why not drive this revolutionary new-type engine, and feel its wonderful difference for yourself? Let your Chrysler dealer show you how much more than horsepower your money can buy in the engine Chrysler has designed from scratch to do an engine's job better, longer, and more efficiently than previous engines can hope to do!

New, Important Book Added to Public Library

A library board meeting made up of six members was conducted at the Public Library Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. It was a regular business meeting in connection with library duties.

One of the high points of the meeting came about in relation to the new book recently added to the reference collection of the Randall County Public Library. The book contains the life story of 327 persons prominent in the news of 1951.

Thirty-five women are among the noteworthy persons included as well as 75 individuals from outside the United States. "Current Biography of 1951" also offers a "bonus" of 20 authors' biographies which originally appeared during the year in the Wilson Library Bulletin.

Practically every country in the news today is represented with biographies from 29 nations. Radio preachers Charles E. Fuller and Billy Graham are included. Such exponents from the French fashion scene as Schiaparelli and Jacques Fath are represented as is surrealist Salvador Dali.

Here, too, is the head of the circus, John Ringling North, and motion study expert, Lillian Gilbreth, as well as Jeanne Crain, her film impersonator in "Cheaper by the Dozen." Homer Bigart, Christopher Fry and Marguerite Higgins are among the writers; George Burns and Gracie Allen, Lilli Palmer, Ethel Waters and Basil Rathbone from the entertainment field; Dizzy Dean, Ty Cobb, Joe DiMaggio, Ray Robinson, and Randy Turpin from the sports world.

An interesting and useful "index by professions" includes 34 different fields of endeavor. The most important among these being United States Government, Politics and Education. International relationship and foreign government are next. Architecture and dance form the fewest number of entries in the book.

Like its eleven predecessors, this yearbook is a one-alphabet cumulation of articles and obituaries that have appeared in the monthly issues during the year. Each sketch includes a photograph and references to additional material. Considerable research makes possible impartial and accurate information, while an informal style adds readability.

Bill Cleavinger On Champion AF Basketball Team

The son of a local couple was on the Air Force basketball team that recently won the European USAFE Squadron championship. In fact it was Cpl. Bill Cleavinger's set shot, when there was only 30 seconds playing time left, that won the championship game. Cpl. Cleavinger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Cleavinger.

Bill is on the team of the 807th Jets. This quintet beat the champion team of South Germany for a crack at the champs of North Germany. They downed this foe and it set them up for a crack at the championship of all of Europe. The quintet successfully put down such threats as champions of England and France. The final game was their toughest. It was with French Morocco and the Jets only edged them out by two points with a score of 50-48.

The winning two points were those by Cpl. Cleavinger during the last minute of play. Cleavinger had been out of the game most of the time with a stone bruise suffered earlier on the basketball court. The championship game was played in Landsberg, Germany.

Cleavinger volunteered for Air Force service on January 8, 1951. He left the USA in June and is now a ground radar operator in the Air Force.

OFF KEY

The song writer was a guest at a party. He loaded himself with food and drink, and then began annoying the piano keys. When he finished, the host walked up to him.

"While you were playing," said the host, "I made a bet with a friend. What was the name of the song you just played?"

The song writer smiled proudly. "You've never heard it before," he boasted. "It's one of my new compositions."

The host nodded. "Then I win my bet," he said, happily. "My friend insisted the piano was out of tune!"

SECOND THOUGHTS

A man had a slight difference of opinion with his wife. But he acknowledged his error generously by saying: "You are right and I am wrong, as you generally are." Then he hurried off to catch his train.

"So nice of him to put it like that," his wife said to herself — and then she began to think about it.

Automobiles Will Outpace War as Killer

NEW YORK — The automobile will outpace war as a mass killer of Americans early this year, when its fatality toll will exceed for the first time in history the total of the nation's military dead since 1775, unless the new year starts with a marked decline in traffic deaths and Korean casualties increase greatly in the meantime, the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies has reported.

At the end of the first year and a half of the Korean conflict on December 25, military deaths in all U.S. wars since the Revolution started had reached approximately 1,004,000, according to the Association's comparative study of war and traffic fatalities. The automobile killed its millionth victim on December 22. Its toll on Christmas Day, when the Korean war was 18 months old, was approximately 500 over that historic mark, 3,500 below the all-time total of war deaths but 56,500 higher than the tally of 944,000 motor vehicle fatalities at the start of the Korean war on June 25, 1950. In the same 18 months the Department of Defense has reported about 17,800 U.S. military deaths in Korea.

Catching Up
Barring resumption of full-scale war and far greater American casualties in Korea or a huge reduction in the motor vehicle toll during the next few weeks, the automobile will soon overtake war's head start of 125 years in which 530,000 military deaths had occurred before the motor age claimed its first victim just before the twentieth century began, the Association declared. At the 18-month mark of Korean hostilities, traffic fatalities were occurring seven times faster than those of war, claiming in one day as many American lives as the total lost in one week's fighting in Korea.

The historic death race between these two mass killers toward their respective million marks ended with war claiming the life of a new unknown soldier, "GI-X," in Korea last September 3 or 4, according to the Association's study. His civilian counterpart in traffic accidents, "Victim X," died about 110 days later. Both "GI-X" and "Victim X" will remain unknown, it added, although some attempts have been made to establish the identity of the millionth traffic victim, of which no one can be certain because of incomplete early statistics. However, the deaths of these historic victims of war and the automobile a little more than three and a half months apart have centered attention on the relative deadliness of occasional American wars and daily traffic accidents, the Association said in pointing out that within the first two months of 1952 the automobile will take a commanding lead as the deadlier of the two wholesale destroyers of American lives.

"Americans must face the fact that the automobile is a bigger killer of their sons and daughters than our wars," said Thomas N. Boate, public safety director of the Association and acting manager of its accident prevention department, in commenting on the study. "The new year should witness the most determined effort ever made by the nation to reduce the tremendous loss of life in highway accidents."

"An even greater safety movement than that which sought to delay the death of 'Victim X,' the millionth traffic fatality, must be launched immediately to save lives that otherwise will be lost because of carelessness and law violations by drivers during 1952. During the Christmas holidays, just after the millionth automobile death occurred, traffic fatalities dropped about one-third compared with the previous year. While the most intensive traffic safety drive in history did not prevent the death of 'Victim X' in 1951, it probably delayed it and also has provided the foundation for a bigger, stronger campaign by all states and communities this year in a nation which is more fully conscious of the menace of traffic accidents than ever before."

Gold Star Mother Finally Gives in to Draft Board

CHICAGO—A gold star mother, worn down by repeated draft board calls, and classified as 1A, announced that she was ready to go if they still wanted her.

Mrs. Joe Willy Riley, 35, said that she had received repeated notices from the draft board and had thrown them all away until the most recent one.

The last one, mailed to Joe Willy Riley, ordered her to report for induction.

Describing herself as middle-aged, Mrs. Riley says, "My efforts to find a job have failed because I'm more than 35. Yet the government thinks I'm good draft material. I've given both my sons to the service. What more do they want?"

Born in Grenada, Miss., Mrs. Riley says she was named Joe Willy after a grandmother, Joanna, and an uncle, Willy.

"I returned all the draft notices," she said, "Marking them 'no such person' or 'I'm a mother', but they keep sending me draft orders. I'm ready to go if they want me."

Crime is a "sucker's racket," Sutton says in prison.

HER ONLY HOPE

As often happens, when a woman is approaching 40, Miss Robinson was "about 28," and not without hope. Even her favorite fortune-teller could not see a suitor in the offing, but was anxious to keep a customer.

"Ha!" she said, her eyes on the crystal. "I see a tall man. He's going to propose to you."

"Dark?" fluttered the excited client.

"Yes," said the fortune-teller. "Dark. It will have to be."

IMPORTANT

An elderly lady, after long trips through impressive hallways and an hour of waiting, was permitted to see a high-up assistant in the Agriculture Department.

"But I want to see the Secretary of Agriculture himself," she protested.

"He's not in just now, madam," said the official. "Can't you tell me what it is you want to see him about?"

"Well, I have a geranium that isn't doing so well."

TALLER

Finding she tired quickly, a woman decided to weigh herself. As she stepped off the scales, her husband eyed her appraisingly and asked: "Well, what's the verdict? a little over-weight?"

"Oh, no," said his wife, "but according to that height table on the scales I should be about six inches taller!"

"INTOXICATING" MILK

An old man's cow got loose, visited a neighbor's still, and ate so much sour mash that she died. The old man put in a claim against the neighbor for the cost of the cow.

"I'll never pay it," said the neighbor. "My whiskey mash didn't kill your cow. She gave eggnog, and you milked her to death."

A DIFFERENCE

The liner was encountering bad weather in mid-ocean and some of the passengers were very uncomfortable. Watching a miserable-looking man who was bending over the side of the ship, a fair young thing turned to the woman at her side.

"Your husband is a poor woman, 'he's a rich stockbroker.'"

HELP!

An old maid was aroused one night to find a man under her bed. She neither fainted or screamed. Instead, she said, "Sit down, sir, I want to talk to you."

An hour later, there came a frantic ring over the telephone at police headquarters. "There's a burglar in Miss Spinster's bedroom. Send the police at once."

All right," answered the sergeant. "Is this Miss Spinster speaking?"

"No," came the anguished voice, "this is the burglar."

COULDN'T CARE LESS

Cogswell had taken up the saxophone and had become very unpopular, in the apartment house. He was riding down in the elevator one morning and met another tenant. "Tell me honestly," he said to the neighbor, "does my practicing make you nervous?"

"Well, it used to, when I first heard the other tenants complaining about it," the neighbor replied, "but now I don't care what happens to you."

AIN'T SAYING WHO

At an amateur show one budding star imitated a well-known actor who was to appear on the same bill. Afterwards the amateur tackled the professional.

"Would you mind telling me what you thought of my abilities as shown by my impersonation of you?" he asked.

"Well," said the other cheerfully, "one of us is awful."

CEILING ZERO

An apartment hunter said to a superintendent: "Yes, I think this will suit me very well. But what are all those small stains on the ceiling?"

"Well, sir," was the reply, "the last occupant of this room was a professor who was always experimenting with a new chemical."

"Oh," ohhh'd our friend, "then those are the marks of the chemical."

"No," said the super, "they're the professor's!"

Not So Good

A cook decided to quit her job. Mistress (upset): "I can't understand why you are leaving. Haven't we treated you like one of the family?"

Cook: "Yes'm, you has, and I don't think I can put up with it any longer."

Turn About

Taxi Driver—"Say, this meter is running backward. It says I owe you $1.50."

Passenger—"And don't forget the tip."

Ouch!

Contestant: I do a nice business selling lemon extract.

Bob Hawk: Do any of your customers give it to their cats?

Contestant: Of course not!

Bob Hawk: I didn't think so. Nobody wants a sour puss.

She Can Tell

Cashier—"I'm not as pretty as I used to be."

Boss—"Oh, come, why do you say that?"

Cashier—"The men have started counting their change."

COMPARISON

"I see," said the man who reads, "that over in Australia they have earthworms ten feet long."

"Yeah?" growled the old married grouch. "Well, over here there are plenty of them between five and six feet tall who are worn to a frazzle earning money for families who are trying to keep up with the Joneses."

Try Again

Mr. Newlywed—"Is the steak ready now, dear?"

Mrs. Newlywed—"I'm sorry I'm so long, George, but it looked hopeless grilled, and it doesn't look much better fried, but if you'll be patient a little longer, I'll see what boiling does to it."

SO, THAT'S IT!

A colored agent was summoned before the Insurance Commissioner. "Don't you know," said the commissioner, "that you can't sell life insurance without a state license?"

"Boss," said the darkey, "you shuah said a moufful, I knowed I couldn't sell it, but I didn't know the reason."

QUESTIONS

He (at the movies)—"Can you see all right?"

She—"Yes."

He—"Is there a draft on you?"

She—"No."

He—"Is your seat comfortable?"

She—"Yes."

He—"Will you change places with me?"

Broken English

Warm: Cold that has melted.

Burglaries: Hauls of mazuma.

Small Town: Where everybody knows whose check is good.

Automatic Dishwasher: A well-trained husband.

Speaker Explains Progress of WTCC To Lions Wednesday

Cecil Massey was given a token of appreciation in the form of a going-away present Wednesday at the Lions Club weekly luncheon. The present was a desk pen set with a black onyx base.

Guest speaker for the Lions was Jimmy Lovell of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Lovell stated that the West Texas Chamber of Commerce was the largest regional organization of its kind in the world. It covers 133 counties and gives them the benefits obtained through various channels of experience and research.

Lovell explained that the organization suffered during the war. In fact the downward trend of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce continued until February of 1951. At that time the directors began looking around for a competent manager to put the organization back on its feet.

Fred Husbands of Waco was selected to do that job. Chosen for the merits of his past accomplishments, Husbands did not prove a disappointment. The progress of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce since February of 1951 has shown that.

The speaker called attention to the Plainview branch office of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. He went on to say that a branch office is soon to be located in Amarillo.

Convention fund for the Lions was increased by selling cigars and auctioning off a puppy. The puppy was a six week old Boston Bulldog which brought a total of $21.50 and was sold to Dr. W. J. Wooten.

The Lions welcomed one guest, Jimmy Owen was the guest of Lion Ed Williams.

Jack Jennings, a new member, was added to the Lions Den by Bill Sternberg.

Music is nothing else but wild sounds civilized into time and tune. —Thomas Fuller.

Arkansas had a great deal to do with the history of Texas.

Archibald Yell of Arkansas resigned his seat in Congress to lead a regiment of cavalry in the war between the United States and Mexico and he was killed in the battle of Buena Vista. Senator Chester Ashley of Arkansas made a notable speech urging the annexation of Texas, and Arkansas' other Senator, Ambrose H. Sevier, was one of the commissioners who negotiated the treaty of peace between the United States and Mexico.

David Crockett and Sam Houston enjoyed the hospitality of Arkansas while en route to Texas where they made such glorious history.

And the most generally accepted tradition of the origin of the Bowie knife is that the first one was made in Arkansas by James Black, a blacksmith in the town of Washington.

U. S. Judge James V. Allred, former governor of Texas, once remarked that when a politician says a newspaperman misquoted him, what he means is that he said it but he wishes to goodness he hadn't.

Your columnist spoke a while back at the annual dinner of the Chamber of Commerce, away up in the Panhandle at Dalhart. There were visitors from Colorado, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Missouri and Kansas—that section being closer to the capitals of five other states than to Austin. Oh, yes, there were some present from Texas, too!

Traveling with friends from from Amarillo to Dalhart, we saw a touch of the primitive: two coyotes standing in a field with ragged patches of snow.

Did you ever see a fire-engine rush down the street—drawn by horses, their manes flying, their steel-shod hooves causing sparks to fly from the cobble-stone street, the driver standing up and shouting? When motors replaced the horses, my ambition to be chief of the fire department died.

Bible Verse Answers

2. The eleven disciples.
3. That His followers, after being empowered by the Holy Spirit, are to carry His gospel to all people, beginning at home and from there to the uttermost parts of the world.

The President is going to leave a loophole that will permit a draft when he makes his announcement that he doesn't choose to seek a third term in 1952. Mr. Truman's intent is to step out, but he finds something he doesn't like about all those who are suggested to him as a successor.

Mr. Truman withdrew his name from the presidential primary in California when word from Democratic politicians indicated that Senator Estes Kefauver would give a repeat performance of his New Hampshire victory over the President.

U. S. officials classify it as secret, but, in Paris, French officials reveal that American aid to French Indo-China this year will run around half a billion dollars. Paris politicians apparently figure this kind of good news should not be kept from the French taxpayer.

The Pyramid Novelty Company announces a three day period of open house during the month of April. The three days that this organization will open its doors to the public are April 19, 20 and 21. The fact that the company is primarily a wholesale house will make it more interesting to the public. Many of the novelties offered through retail channels will be seen during the open house period. Dean Acheson, Secretary of State is not convinced that the British and French know what they are talking about in concluding that Joseph Stalin's latest proposal on a German settlement is sincere. Mr. Acheson wants an Austrian peace treaty and a settlement in Korea before he is going to get excited about any Soviet offer on Germany.

Senator Estes Kefauver is more than irritated by the maneuvers of Democratic Party leaders who have disqualified 25 of his candidates for delegate in the Ohio presidential primary on very technical grounds. The Senator isn't so sure that the Democratic National Committee is playing fair.

Dr. J. A. Hill Talked On Schools at Rotary Luncheon Tuesday

Dr. J. A. Hill attended the state-wide meeting of the Citizens Advisory Commission held in Austin last month upon invitation of the State Board of Education. Invitations were extended to 1000 citizens to attend this conference. Invitations went only to interested citizens, none of whom were teachers.

Purpose of the meeting was to get the viewpoint of interested citizens in the cause of public education. This can only be done by instilling greater interest in the schools among the citizens of Texas.

Schools are under pressure by a certain group of citizens. The State Board wants to know what the people think.

If neglected the schools will run down, the same as any business or professional institution of the community.

A large group of citizens was divided into small groups of 30 persons each. Each group was instructed to thoroughly discuss the prevailing problems and to make recommendations to the State Board of Education.

Mr. Hill was highly impressed with the intelligence of the board and the sincerity of the members as they went about their work. The prevailing problem is one of proper finance for the schools. Those who do not believe in federal aid should set about to see that the schools get more local money.

In 1939 teachers were paid 12% of the average of all employed persons; but in 1951, teachers draw 3% below the general average of pay of all employed. All teachers draw on the average of $3,094 while dentists, lawyers and others receive three to four times this much money; and the lowest bracket paid to government workers is above that paid to teachers.

In order to instill greater interest in the schools, group discussions were recommended in all districts in Texas.

Visitors were W. T. McGregor and Clark Jarnagin of Canyon; Forrest Barnes, E. R. Blair, Jr., John E. Hill, E. Kanchar, of Amarillo.

China Missionary to Speak Here Tonight

A young woman missionary who spent five years in China, including 11 months behind the "bamboo curtain" after the Communists took over, will speak tonight at 7:45 o'clock at the First Baptist Church. She is Miss Jaxie Short, of Shawnee, Okla., who returned to America in August as one of the last two remaining missionaries in a group of 20 at her station.

Miss Short was graduated from Oklahoma Baptist University, Shawnee, in 1936 and later took her master's degree from Southwestern Baptist Seminary at Fort Worth.

The most remarkable thing about her missionary career in the Far East, Miss Short says, was the very fact that she was able to continue teaching those 11 months after the Communists took over Canton, where she was stationed.

Miss Short plans to return to missionary work after her year's vacation.

Poets First Book Shows Unusual Usage of Words

"Reconnaissance" by Faye F. Alexander is a new book of poetry that will intrigue poetry lovers.

Miss Alexander employs words in unusual associations. Her short verses cannot be read idly but challenge the concentration of her reader. Many of these are quite personal, revealing the aspirations, satisfactions and disappointments of the author.

In more extended poems the poet veers toward the epic. Here too originality in form and expressive power gives a sharp contrast to the common usage of our language. In these with an Oklahoma background the author shows keen appreciation of and insight into prominent characters of that state's development and develops a sense of nostalgia for childhood's situations.

Miss Alexander is the sister of Mrs. M. D. Shepherd and visited in Canyon last June.

She was born in Tishomingo, Oklahoma. She attended Murray Junior College in Tishomingo, and later the University of Oklahoma. At present she makes her home in Los Angeles, Calif., where she is secretary and radio script writer for Academy of Nutrition.

She served as assistant to the Director of Red Cross National Headquarters in Washington, D. C., from 1942 to 1951. Her chief duty during the war was as liaison official for boys missing in action and parents of those boys.

Nancy Weaver, daughter of Faye Alexander, has spent the past three summers in the home of her aunt, Mrs. Shepherd.

Miss Alexander's book is now available to the public at Warwick Printing Co.

Here in the capital, where people are perhaps a little more closely attuned to the political atmosphere than are citizens in other localities, a quickening of activity among the campaigners is becoming evident.

Events of today make it apparent that the struggles of tomorrow are going to be of major proportions. A recent development was the resignation of John Ben Shepperd of Gladewater as secretary of state. Shepperd, a candidate for attorney general, said he would make a formal announcement about his candidacy and start his campaign shortly after May 1.

Of course, it has been known for some time that Shepperd would run for attorney general. His resignation merely means that he is going to devote full time to the job of seeking office from now until the July primaries. The most interesting question here is whether Shepperd is going to have an opponent.

Ralph Yarborough, Austin attorney, says he has been getting a good many letters urging him to run for the place sought by Shepperd. That means Yarborough is thinking about getting into the race, the question being whether he will get enough support to make him a major contender for the office.

In Yarborough's position—which would be the position of any man considering a race for state office—a primary question is one of financing. Most citizens would be amazed if they knew how much money it takes to put on a winning campaign.

The new election law is going to bring about more public knowledge of campaign expenditures, which sometimes in the past have run well into six figures. That spending was not reported, however, as "friends of the candidate" paid most of the bills.

As I recently pointed out in this column, the last Legislature changed the law so that now these expenses must be reported. Those who seek to influence office-holders by contributing to their campaigns will be trying to find loopholes in the law so that their political maneuverings may be anonymous.

Another aspect of the political situation is that of the conflict between the "Loyal" Democrats and the Democratic movement headed by the Governor.

This fight is highlighted in Austin by virtue of the fact that Governor Shivers the other night addressed a gathering of those who are following him in his proposal that Texas should send an unstructured delegation to the national convention in Chicago.

The Governor said he was delighted to see so many citizens taking interest in their precinct conventions (there were about 250 present for the meeting, which was in the nature of a caucus, and perhaps the biggest of its kind ever held in the state).

Fagan Dickson, who heads the "Loyal Democrat" movement, says he is agreeable to an unstructured delegation, but he insists that those participating in the precinct conventions take the party loyalty pledge.

The last Legislature passed a law which changed the election regulations somewhat, and there seems to be some doubt as to whether or not the loyalty pledge is now required.

The State Democratic Executive Committee has asked for a legal opinion on the point, and the opinion is to be presented to a meeting of the committee in New Braunfels on April 18.

The situation is somewhat confused and in many respects difficult to understand. Even if I were familiar with all phases of it, I could not make anything like a complete explanation in this space.

But I would like to make one suggestion: that you go to your precinct conventions and participate in them.

Mr. and Mrs. John McGehee Observe 55th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John T. McGehee, of Wayside, celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary Sunday, Mar. 23, 1952, at their home in Wayside. They were married March 21, 1897 at Wayside. Big Bob Priddy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Priddy of Canyon, climaxed his play at New Mexico A&M by being chosen to All-Border Conference team and being one of three conference players to receive a vote for Most Valuable Player award. Coaches made the awards.

Priddy's tremendous spring and power made him a terror to opposing players who tried to get near the Aggie backboard. A lion's share of the credit for the Aggies great defensive record must go to Priddy. The Aggies finished fourth defensively among the nation's major colleges by allowing the opposition an average of only 47.8 points per game.

New Pittsburgh WALLHIDE Rubberized SATIN FINISH

EXTRA TOUGH
LOOKING

Glides on with Amazing Ease

Even if you've never painted before, you can do an expert job with either brush or roller. Stop or start any place. You'll leave no apparent brush- or lap-marks. Even missed spots can be filled in without impairing the final uniform appearance.

Cleans in a Jiffy

New WALLHIDE's non-porous surface prevents dirt or soot from penetrating. Stubborn stains, grease, crayon, ink spots, mercuriochrome, lipstick or finger smears can be washed off in a jiffy without harm to the soft, mellow sheen.

Withstands Hard Family Usage

No need to worry about lively children scuffing or marring the walls. The modern chemicals used in new WALLHIDE make it extra tough and durable. It dries speedily to a tough, elastic film that will not crack, chip, or rub off.

Spring Grid Sessions April 4; 30 Squadmen Back From '51

Spring football drills at West Texas will get underway next Friday, April 4, head grid coach Frank Kimbrough announced Wednesday.

Aspirants for next year's eleven will practice 20 days during the 30 day period in line with a recent policy adopted by the Border Conference after NCAA approval.

Back from last fall's team are thirty returnees who are expected to bear the brunt of the work next season. About a dozen new grid-dars are expected to ask for pads next Friday.

Five regulars will be back for the 1951 edition of the Herd. They are backs Bobby Lane, Leon Evans, and Bobby Clark and linemen Jerry Bollen and Chester Dowell.

Heart Pumps Big Amount of Blood During Day, Night

Pumping 2,500 gallons of blood every 24 hours is the astonishing work done by the heart, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. The heart is about the size of a man's fist and is rated at 124th of a horse power; it never sleeps, loafs or takes a vacation from the beginning of life to the end. The only rest it gets is between beats. Yet with all the work the heart has to do it does not give out suddenly unless it has been injured or ill-treated.

Under pressure of work the average person neglects his heart and unwittingly abuses it. The chief causes of heart trouble, aside from the deterioration of old age, are rheumatic fever, acute infectious diseases, chronic infections, syphilis, too abrupt return to activity after a serious illness, too strenuous exercise and overweight may be a factor.

Many of the signs which you may think mean heart trouble can be caused by some other disorder. Indigestion, lung trouble, or nervousness may cause pain near the heart, shortness of breath, fainting and irregularity of beat. If you have any of these symptoms, do not try to diagnose the condition yourself, but go to your doctor for an examination. He will be able to find out what is wrong and may tell you that your heart is sound. Have a regular periodic examination and follow your doctor's advice.

Just Between You, Me and ... the Gatepost

One of the high points of the year for high school athletes was enjoyed Thursday night at the high school cafeteria. It was the annual banquet given in honor of the boys and girls participating in athletic activities.

An estimated 200 people were present to witness the big moment for the boys and girls who had won honors this year as athletes. Long tables were decorated with the school colors and adorned with almost a dozen impressive trophies.

Guest speaker George Graham, superintendent of Hereford Public Schools, said, "If our teams had been a little better, we'd have some of these trophies." During his speech Mr. Graham looked at Harley Burrus and with a pleading note in his voice asked, "Ray is your baby boy, isn't he Mr. Burrus?"

Graham kept the audience in a hilarious mood by tossing in a timely joke every now and then. The serious vein of his talk was a wonderful message to the boys and girls of high school age. He told of the 50th person. He said 49 people looked for the job but the job looks for the 50th person. The 50th person was explained as the one who's always smiling and courteous, the good sport, the humble winner and proud loser.

One of the quips that Graham passed on was about the treasurer of the Ladies Aid Society who went to the bank to make a deposit. She told the bank teller that she wanted to deposit some aid money. The teller thought she said egg money so he remarked, "Isn't it a remarkable thing how well the old hens are doing these days."

Graham explained that he was a sought after speaker. Usually sought after the speech was over, he added. Glancing about he continued, "I'm lucky there's a back door from which to escape."

During the week that spring time was given the official green light by the calendar, March 16-22, Miss Lou Ella Patterson heard a cardinal redbird in the vicinity of her home. It is unusual for these birds to be seen here as this is not their native habitat. Miss Patterson recognized the sound of the bird because she had lived in the natural environment of the cardinal redbird at one time.

Although spring was ushered in amidst a flurry of chilly weather, things began to look really like the season was here to stay during the early part of the final week in March. Then the weather man lowered the boom on us by hurling another cold wave this way. Before six o'clock Wednesday afternoon the wind was rising. It had an icy edge on it and the report had come in that the mercury was rapidly sliding down the thermometer in the vicinity of Dalhart. Balmy weather triumphed however and local temperatures barely dipped below the freezing mark.

Things began warming up around the square. April Fools' day and the deadline for registering cars were drawing near. The C of C had made up a group of signs to encourage people to go to the polls and vote on Tuesday, April 1. Most of the people who talked of the election had a pretty heated argument either for or against the issues involved. The election is for city officials and the turnout of voters will be important in the floating of the bond issue to give the city a better sewerage system.

For those who didn't get new auto license plates before the deadline, here's a warning: don't drive your car until you have the new plates and it won't cost you a penalty. If you do drive the car you are apt to be picked up and fined rather heavily for doing so. Unless you can prove that the car has not been driven since midnight of March 31 the penalty will be 20% of the purchase price of the new license plates.

Hold on to your hat, here comes our weekly chirps of wisdom. It isn't enough that we hatch ideas, now we have to hitch 'em too. Today the proper slogan is live and earn, and for survival you have to do more earning than living.

No matter how hard the job is, remember, the pavement is harder. Individuals shouldn't try to overthrow the government, that's a job for the majority.

The reason most folks don't say what they think very often is that they do lots more saying than thinking.

It's a long time until football season but the players are getting in shape for next fall's grid clashes. As time goes by we're going to get a few of the vital statistics about various players for this column.

This week the gridiron performer to appear in the column is DeWayne (Red) Cleveland. He is originally from Friona but the last school he attended before coming to WTSC was Hi-Way, New Mexico. The husky six footer has all the accessories for his red hair, namely freckles.

Cleveland is a congenial fellow and always has a smile. He works part-time at Bellah's Grocery and Market to keep the family budget on an even keel while attending school. He is married and has a 14 month old daughter. Although he is majoring in education and tentatively plans to teach when he is out of college, his present interests are centered around his college work.

Local Lions Club Represented at Meeting in Hereford

E. R. (Dutch) Cleavinger, zone chairman for the Lions Club, attended a meeting in Hereford Sunday. It was his first cabinet meeting to attend, Cleavinger explained, and went on to say that he just listened and learned because the procedure was all new to him.

The meeting got under way with a luncheon at 12:30. Cleavinger said that he arrived too late for this but did get there in time for the business part of the meeting. This phase of the meeting got under way about 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and there were about 20 zone chairmen present.

Deputy District Governor Boyd Meador conducted the meeting. National Council representative, Marshall Harvey, from Lubbock was there. The Hereford delegate at the meeting was Mr. McLean.

A business meeting of this type, commonly known as cabinet meetings, is held four times each year for the purpose of charting the future course of Lions Clubs. All district officers of District 2-T-1 are supposed to attend these meetings.

The Mexican Cattle Quarantine

The announcement that the quarantine against Mexican cattle will probably be lifted on September 1st has caused a great deal of discussion among the cattle people.

Many fear that it will tend to break the cattle market and do untold damage to many small operators. Others are of the opinion that it will cause the cattle market to level off and that it will create a healthy, rather than damaging, situation.

The decision concerning the lifting of the quarantine was prompted by the fact that Mexico presently appears to be free of the Hoof and Mouth Disease. If no new outbreaks occur between now and September 1st, Mexico will be declared free of the disease. This will mean that cattle can be imported under whatever regulations are decided upon as applicable.

The Secretary of Agriculture, under the Tariff Act, makes the declaration. At the present time there are no definite regulations determined. Work is progressing in that field and the proposed regulations are being fully processed.

It has been suggested that a period of quarantine at the port of entry should be established in order to permit observation before the cattle are brought in. This procedure was not followed before the outbreak.

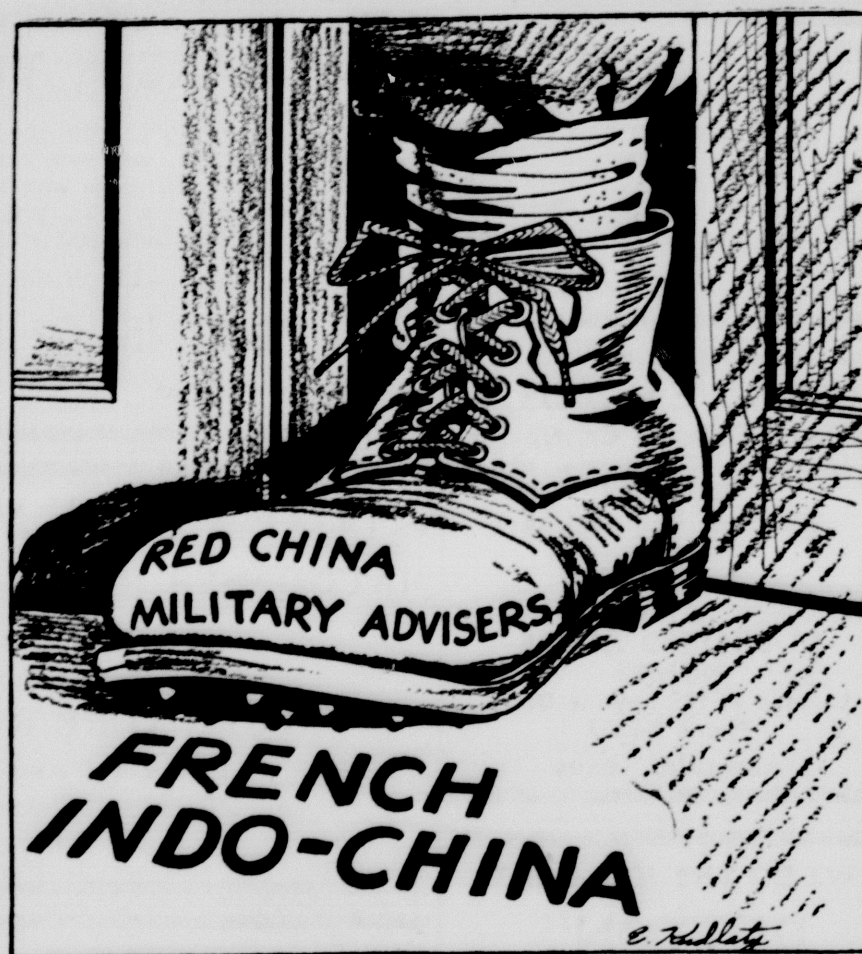

It seems to be the consensus of opinion here that the lifting of the quarantine will not cause any great fluctuations in the cattle market. This opinion is based upon the fact that since the quarantine has been in effect a large meat packing and processing industry has been established in northern Mexico.

It is logical to believe that the Mexican government is not going to let those establishments fail because they cannot obtain cattle. This means that the Mexican government will probably invoke certain restrictions on the exportation of cattle in order to protect this industry that has grown up and means much to the economy of Mexico.

The effect of such restrictions could be that only the surplus of certain grades of animals would be allowed to cross the border.

Prior to the outbreak of the disease and the placing of the quarantine, 350,000 to 400,000 Mexican cattle crossed the border into this country each year. Most of those here are thoroughly familiar with the subject are convinced that importations subsequent to the lifting of the quarantine will be far below that figure. This certainly seems logical.

Actually the quarantine has in one respect been of great service to Mexico. It has made possible the building up of the large meat packing and processing industry that will contribute much to the progress of Mexico in the future. In fact it was probably more helpful than one of these foreign aid laws would have been. Mexico was able to wipe out a most serious disease and at the same time build up an industry that will serve the country well.

Foot-In-the-Door Policy*The Foreign Aid Program

The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations and the House Committee on Foreign Affairs have been going full speed ahead in obtaining information concerning the proposed foreign aid budget request.

As you know, General Gruenther has been testifying before these committees in support of the full aid bill, and has made an excellent witness. The full budget request involves expenditures of 7.9 billion dollars. It is going to be interesting to watch what happens on this proposed expenditure in the light of what has been happening to the domestic appropriations bills.

These domestic appropriations bills have been cut and sliced from all sides in the committee and the treatment is renewed when they reach the House Floor.

During the last few days the House has been considering the appropriations bill for the Department of Interior. Several sizeable cuts were made even though the bill had been whittled down pretty well in the committee.

Some of the cuts affected the American Indians, and this of course provoked heated debate. One member observed that you had to live outside the United States in order to be considered in any federal assistance programs. Some time ago this same member made the observation that the Confederacy was the only nation that the United States ever defeated on the battlefield and then failed to feed afterwards.

He is a very able member and is really hitting the nail on the head. I don't believe that this Congress is going to make the cuts on the domestic front that we have already made and then do a complete economic about-face and write out a blank check for foreign aid.

Appropriations Bill for Department of Interior

I introduced an amendment to reduce the Bureau of Mines funds by the sum of $816,800. I was taken to task by several members from mining districts. One of them pointed out that there were no mines in my district. I admitted this, but told him there were some taxpayers in my district.

It seems that the membership are more interested in the taxpayers at the present time than they are in the fact that there are no mines in my district, because the amendment was adopted by the vote of 192 to 164. It is these kinds of cuts that are going to pare the budget down. The talk is here that we will be able to knock off 14 billion dollars.

REALLY "GOOD" COOKS are, of course, born that way. But those whom the world classes as "fair," usually, have had to learn it step by painful step.

The cookbooks give little real aid to these struggling souls. Like Thomas Jefferson on democracy, the editors of cookbooks assume you've got a good education on the subject before you begin reading. So, for example, a roll recipe will read: "Scald the milk"; "Add crumbled yeastcake dissolved in lukewarm water." But it rarely bothers to suggest that "scald" really means "scald, then cool." This results in a couple of trips to the alley with a mass of paste dough before someone thinks to tell you whatsa matter.

Then there's the little item of adding vanilla. We once made three beautiful batches of boiled custard, "right by the book," only to have its creamy smoothness turn into curdled failure. This one baffled us for nearly six weeks before an astute "natural born" figured out we were adding the vanilla while the custard was still hot. — So obvious that the recipe just ignores it!

These real cooks, incidentally, are often less help to the novice than the cookbooks. They'll rattle off a recipe on the way home from church something like this: "Then add your flour." "How much?" you ask timidly. "Oh, you know, just enough to give it the right consistency." Or, if you inquire how long to cook something: "Well, you can sorta tell when it begins to get firm." Ten minutes? Four hours? Find out for yourself! If you're one of the unlucky women who've had to follow this tortuous path to passable cookery, you'll know when you've arrived: The first time you forget yourself enough to tell an anxious beginner, "Don't cook it too long!" or "You can sorta tell when it's done," then you're ready for your diploma.

Seniors Plan Tour Of South America

Seniors will leave Wednesday, April 9, at 5:30 a. m. for their senior trip. A plane has been chartered from the Trans-World Airlines for the trip. The seniors will tour the South American republics of Argentina, Brazil, and Chile. Rio de Janeiro, capital of Brazil, will be the first stop.

While touring Brazil, the seniors will be the special guests of Getulio DeVargas, president of Brazil, for three weeks. They will stay at the El Rio Branco hotel during that time.

On April 30, they will fly to Buenos Aires, capital of Argentina, where they will stay at Casa Blanca, the home of the President. After spending five days touring that country, the seniors will journey to Chile, where they are scheduled to go on a two week cruise in the Pacific.

Deep-sea fishing will be the main attraction. An indoor swimming pool, tennis courts, and a theatre will be at the disposal of the visitors from CHS. There will also be dancing to the music of Guy Lombardo and his orchestra every night.

After returning to Chile, the seniors with their sponsors and room parents will again board their plane and head for Hawaii. Four days will be spent there. Movie stars Guy Magison, Clark Gable, Farley Granger, John Derek, Esther Williams, Jane Russell, Ava Gardner, and Marilyn Monroe will entertain.

A swimming suit designed by Esther Williams will be given to the senior girls, and the boys will each receive an exclusive sports shirt created by Bing Crosby.

Early Friday morning, May 23, the seniors will board their plane for the flight back to Canyon for the Baccalaureate services, May 25, and graduation exercises to be held Thursday, May 29, at 8:15 p. m. in the Administration auditorium of West Texas State College.

Designer Departs for French Fashion Study

Jo Jennings, junior of CHS, will leave for Paris, France, Wednesday, April 2, where she will study dress designing under Madame Antoinette, famous French dress designer.

Jo recently entered some of her fashions in a contest and took last prize, which was the above mentioned trip to France.

She will study fashions in France for two years, and will then return to Canyon where she hopes to open her own dress shop. Jo says she will cater to teen-agers in her new shop.

Fashion designing has been a hobby of Jo's for many years and she has long hoped to make it her career.

She has studied in such famous schools as Madame Rene School of Designing and Fabre Art School of New York.

She was born in Hereford, Tex., Sept. 24, 1935, and started to school in Roswell, N. M., and went there for nearly seven years. Later she went to Truth or Consequences, New Mexico, for three years and later moved to Canyon.

Murry and Myers Midget Captains

Tommy Myers and Mitch Murry were recently elected to replace Dwaine Currie and Bob Ratliff as co-captains of the Eagle's football team during the approaching season, it was announced by Coach Ray Schultzzy at his yearly press conference.

Due to the fact that Dwaine received a muscell injury and Bob a compound fracture, they will be unable to continue on here as captains since they are graduating.

Honors held recently by Mr. "Mighty" Mitch Murry are: heavy-weight champion of the Golden Gloves tournament, held in Madison □ Garden, parliamentarian for the FHA, 50-51, and he broke the 1280 track record for 1952.

Honors recently held by Tommy are: FFA Sweetheart, Miss America contest judge, 1951, and won dishonorable mention in the Dallas Tribune for his outstanding sportsmanship in baseball.

Dwaine, Tommy, Bob, and Mitch will have a three week paid vacation awaiting them at the close of football season. They will fly to New York in the private plane of J. E. Millery, with Bob Hood as pilot. While there, they will be guests of Conrad Hilton in the Waldorf Histeria.

Plans are already arranged for them to attend the World Fashion Premier where they will select the style of clothes best suited for the Canyon High girls and boys.

On their return home they will go by way of New Orleans during the Mardis Grass celebration. After spending five days there they will return to Canyon.

Students Offered Positions on 'Life'

Lucille Simon and Carol Rose, Canyon High School journalism students, received offers Saturday, March 22, from Life Magazine to become editorial writers on its ed staff.

These two students were offered a salary which has been estimated at over $150 a month with not much chance for advancement, but a steady income, according to the amount of copy written by each. (At least 1600 inches a day.)

Lucille and Carol will take a 8:30 train from Canyon on Friday, April 4, and will arrive in the "Windy City" (Chicago) in time to start to work on Monday, April 7, in their chosen vocations.

When asked what their reactions were to the offer, Lucille and Carol said, "We are shocked and surprised, but more than pleased to accept the offer."

Other honors held by the girls in the journalistic field are: Carol Rose has won several trophies and certificates on her editorial writing and news stories. She recently placed seventh in a field of eleven in the TISTAURHA. Lucille Simon has won wide acclaim as the top reporter for the whole Panhandle and Tulia too.

The students hope to make a career of journalism and have indicated that they feel that this would give them the start in LIFE they needed to get ahead in the journalistic world. That's LIFE!

Alice Payne Is Selected To Succeed As Next Editor of The Canyon News

Miss Alice Payne, Canyon High School journalism, Spanish, and English instructor, and recently named as outstanding columnist of the year, has been named to replace Mr. Clyde W. Warwick as editor of The Canyon News.

This is a difficult job for any former journalism teacher because of the divergent responsibilities of the two duties, but everyone is sure that Miss Payne will make a good editor.

Many of the jobs Miss Payne has now, however, are ones which have helped her students with similar jobs in her years as high school journalism instructor. Her duties at the office will be editorial writing, editing, make-up, and copy-reading.

Miss Payne, throughout her journalism career, has sponsored several school papers and under her supervision and guidance, the students have won many honors with their papers.

While she was a member of CHS she was a member of TSTA, NEA, P-TA, Order of the Eastern Star, Sigma Delta Pi, a national fraternity of Spanish, and Delta Kappa Gamma, a national honor teacher fraternity. Also while a member of the CHS faculty, she taught a more varied selection of subjects than any other instructor.

Miss Payne received her undergraduate degree at West Texas State College. She then received her Master's Degree from Greeley, Colorado, College of Education. She also has attended Denver University and the University of California.

Interior decorating ranks first as her favorite hobby, while she also spends much time making needle point, playing the piano, horseback riding, golfing, and flower gardening. Miss Payne is flying so low now and has her own car which is a foreign make. She enjoys flying and at one time had her own private pilot's license.

Before coming to Canyon, Miss Payne was head of the Spanish Department, while teaching at Rotan and later at Carlsbad high school; she also taught journalism at Rotan, New Mexico.

While teaching Spanish there she was on the New Mexico State Committee for organizing and reorganizing Spanish and its instruction.

One year, while teaching at Channing, Texas, the students of her class spent many hours one time trying to locate an old fashioned Edison Horn. Their hunt was profitable. Miss Payne had taken cold and had lost her voice.

Miss Payne will be missed in her classes and especially in journalism, but she will be taking on a new job, not too large for her ability.

Students of these classes will leave in May aboard a huge helicopter bound for the roof of the hotel in New York City. Parachutes will be on hand to descend the students to their designated rooms.

Entertainment will be ski jumping, rhinoceros riding, water skating, dancing, and many others. A bathing beauty contest, consisting of the senior girls in Eskimo clothes, will be held with the junior men as judges. Other main events will be kept secret until the time of the social.

Members of the junior class do not anticipate any financial difficulties as they are expecting the senior class to pay for this gala trip.

This is the first time a class of CHS has gone to New York for the annual junior-senior social. The place and date is usually kept a secret, but because of the unusualness of the occasion and the preparation needed for the event, the school board and the junior class has revealed it to the students.

Bassett To Give Senior Recital

WAYNE BASSETT

Sunday afternoon, April 6, at 3 o'clock, Wayne Bassett, talented son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Bassett, will give his senior recital in the auditorium of the Administration Building at West Texas State College.

Wayne has studied music most of his life. His first teacher was Mrs. Herschel Coffee, piano instructor in the Canyon schools. Miss Matilda Gaume, piano instructor at West Texas State College, has taught Wayne for nearly four years and has prepared him for his recital.

Honors received by Wayne are president of the National Honor Society, '52, and secretary of the Canyon High School choir, '49-'50. He has been a member of the choir for four years.

Dating Data

Dear Miss Data,

I am 16 years old, and my boy friend seems to be interested in another girl. He has never mentioned breaking up to me, but actions speak louder than words. Could you please tell me how I could renew his interest in me because I like him very much and enjoy being with him?

Tear-jerkingly yours,
Desperate Dory

Dear Dory,

There is only one thing for you to do. Hang on tight! If you catch him speaking to another girl, even if she speaks first, start crying. Then when you catch the girl alone, tell her to leave your boy friend alone. After all, he is your private property, and other girls should know better than to flirt with him. If they do not heed your warning, claw their eyes out. If you follow these instructions, I guarantee you will no longer have a boy friend to worry about.

Tear-drippingly yours,

Students Form New Club for Seniors

CHS has a new club added to its list of social and school functions. This club was begun some time ago by a group of seniors for the purpose of helping shy, backward students to make friends more easily. This club goes under the name of the "Lonely Seniors Club."

Rules for membership in the club are: students must be 12 or over; send in a written application for club membership; be neither married nor single; and have several admirable characteristics.

The committee for this club is as follows: chairman, Bette J. Graham; publicity manager, Nelda Ruthart; membership application judge, Bette McGehee; and recommendation officer, Joyce Payne.

Applications for club membership will be accepted starting Tuesday, April.

FRESHMAN WESTERN PARTY

Levis and plaid shirts were in style last Friday night, March 28, at the freshman class party in the cafeteria.

The cafeteria was decorated in a western motif, and everyone wore western clothes. Freshman boys and girls played games of musical chairs, potato racing and danced to records.

Later in the evening, refreshments of beans, potato salad, barbecued weiners, buns, pickles, onions, doughnuts, and cold drinks were served by the room mothers.

Tulia Band Gives Musical Assembly

The Tulia High School Band presented a musical assembly to students of Canyon High Tuesday, March 25. This program ranks among the top in popularity with students as they enjoy the variety of selections and the rare novelties.

The program opened with "Hall of Fame," a beautiful concert march, and concluded with "El Capitan," a popular march by the famous composer, John Philip Sousa.

"Ragtime Wedding," a mimic wedding in rags, composed the novelty number with "Walter's Si Tracadero" following.

At this time of the year, every band is preparing its contest numbers and the group played numbers they have selected for contests. "Minuet in E Flat" by Mozart, in his own particular style, the required number, and "Rustecoon," a number selected by the band, were played.

No concert is complete without some popular numbers, said Mr. Vernon T. Lewis, Tulia band director. "Syncopated Clock," the tune of time, and the currently popular "Shrimp Boats" and "Tell Me Why" were presented by the band.

The Canyon and Tulia schools have an exchange assembly system. The vocal or instrumental groups of the two schools exchange programs each spring.

Canyon High School band will journey to Tulia, May 9, to repay the program.

Area FHA Meeting Attended by Girls

FHA girls from over the Panhandle met in Plainview last Saturday for the Area I meeting.

After registration the club went to the school auditorium for the morning session.

Joyce Payne, president of Canyon chapter FHA, and Carlene Rogers, candidate for an area officer, attended a luncheon with the house of delegates.

After lunch the girls saw a talent show conducted by a group of FHA girls. The conclusion of the meeting ended with the installation ceremonies for the incoming area officers.

Acrobats To Present Southern Assembly

"Poetry in motion," a production of somersaulting, balancing, leaping, judo, trampolining, and precipitating, featuring Johnny Cress and company, will be presented at the Canyon High School Auditorium at 1:15 p. m., April 4.

Highlight of the program is the trampoline demonstrations in which several of the students will be given an opportunity to try out the device.

Final feature of the program will be John Cress performing a handstand on the backs of two chairs, one of which rests on bottles which in turn are on a table. Miss Carney will be sitting on the top chair.

Mr. Cress has won over 100 gymnastic titles in competitions held in many parts of the country. He will show several types of tumbling and its relationship to safety in everyday activities.

Miss Stella Carney, Mr. Cress' assistant, has practiced acrobatics since she was three. She will flit smoothly and effortlessly in acrobatic dances.

Mr. Cress and Miss Carney present a sensational type of educational entertainment and are given top rating by school committees in many states.

Chemistry Explosion

Four boys, Aubrey Jackson, Al Myers, Ralph Pope, and Curtis Dickson were caught inventing a highly destructive explosive Friday, March 28, while secretly slipping in to work in the chemistry lab. ## Fish Invent Deadly Chemical Confuse Jury Men on Verdict

Caught in the act of inventing a highly destructive explosive Friday, March 28, at 11 p. m. were four boys, Aubrey Jackson, Al Myers, Ralph Pope, and Curtis Dickson. The purpose for this experiment, according to private investigators, Lowell Hill and Richard Pruett, was to discover a very dangerous chemical in order to sabotage the school building.

Although the experiment was undergoing the last stage of its development, Richard and Lowell were able to prevent any of the suspected drastic results and the only damage which occurred was the removal of the roof of the chemistry lab.

This dangerous chemical is composed of CO2 and an enormous amount of the deadly compound of H2O. Its amount of power is similar to that of the Atomic Bomb.

Punishment for these boys is pending as the jury is at the present time plotting the verdict.

The jury has been out for a few days in order for a few pints to be cleared up. A hung jury is expected because of the confused cooperation of Wanelle Green, but the verdict will be rendered as soon as possible.
